

PUBLIC WORKS ACADEMY

The California JPIA's annual Public Works Academy is geared toward public works managers and supervisors, offering a forum to learn and share insights about effective and ethical leadership. Additionally, participants gain a deeper understanding of the Authority's tools and resources and have the opportunity to network with Authority staff and fellow colleagues.

There is no cost to attend this event, which is exclusive to Authority members and limited to 30 participants. Those interested in attending this academy must first submit a registration request and be selected to participate.

Past topics have included:

- Recent case law impacting public works
- Fleet and driver management
- Contractual risk transfer
- Lessons learned in public works exposures
